

BISHOP DOANE'S SPEECH

At Albany Yesterday—The Bishop Says He is Sick of the Talk of Woman's Rights—A National Inflection—He Thinks if She Had a Vote She Might Sell It.

Albany, June 6.—The Right Rev. William Crowell Doane, Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Albany, presided at the closing exercises of St. Agnes school here to-day. The institution is maintained in connection with the Episcopal cathedral for the education of young women and has many pupils from outside the state.

In his address Bishop Doane said: "One gets sick and tired of the way in which the talk of woman's rights fills the air, not merely in the wild vagaries of its blatant assumptions, but in the parade and push of its claims for recognition of what is called its rights. I have had occasion to say what wrong to womanhood these women's rights would be, and I have no desire to recall a word."

"The agitators are really in the minority. Numberless names on these modern millenary petitions mean only the thoughtless and good-natured yielding to persistent pressure; just as legislative majority votes stand in not a few instances, for a mistaken courtesy or an unmanly cowardice."

"I believe that God will yet save this state and nation from the aggravated miseries of an enlarged, unqualified suffrage, which, in its universality of male voters, is our most threatening danger to-day. But if we are to be visited with this other affliction, as a well-earned punishment for many national sins, then I believe that when we have tasted its bitterness we shall be brought back, perhaps, through anarchy and revolution, to a democracy which shall demand for its existence government by men whom education and actual Americanism of final interest in the nation qualify to govern."

"Meanwhile, when constitutions shall have been altered, to disturb the equipoise of the relation between man and woman; when motherhood shall be replaced by manhood; when neglected homes shall furnish candidates for mismanagement offices; when money shall buy the votes of women, as it does now themselves; when the fires of political discord shall be lighted on the hearthstones of domestic peace; when the assertion of demanded right shall have destroyed the instinctive civility of conceded courtesies; when woman, as has been well said, once the superior, has become the equal of man; then the whirlwind of some violent political reaction will be gathered in tears by those who are sowing the wind, in the mad joy of the petulance of the French revolutions."

"Never in any age, nowhere in any land, and nowhere in America, so much as now in our own empire state, was there such absolute unreason for the clamor which seeks to distract women from the duties of the vocation to which they are called, in the mad pursuit of the greatest wrong that can be done to their sex, their country and mankind."

"The man who is set in public place to-day, to train some of the women of America for their vocation, may not, in times like these, withhold his voice of warning against the dangers and delusions of the hour."

A GRAND WEDDING.

At the splendid wedding in Lenox, Mass., spoken of in our yesterday's issue, at which Miss Florence Adele Sloane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Sloane of New York, was united in marriage to James Abernethy Burden, Jr., of Troy, a large number of people of top notch fashionable society were present, including members of the Vanderbilt family, to which the bride belongs, on her mother's side. The family of Governor Morton of New York, Chauncey M. Depew and many members of the diplomatic corps from Washington were present. Over 300 guests came from New York city over the Consolidated road system. Trinity church, where the marriage ceremony was performed, was laden with exquisite flowers and evergreens and palms.

The floral decorations were in green and white, very simple, but beautiful in effect, as the light streamed through the stained glass windows of the church.

The stream of carriages began to arrive at the church entrance shortly after 11 o'clock, and kept on for almost an hour, until the adjacent streets were blocked.

The two tiny maids of honor, Miss Ruth Twombly and Miss Jessie Sloane, waited in the vestibule for the remainder of the bridal party. They were attired in white silk, with light green ribbons at the waist, large Leghorn hats trimmed with feathers and carried lilacs of the valley.

The four bridesmaids, the Misses Sloane, Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt and Miss Beatrice Bend, arrived just before the noon hour.

The best man was Frederick Bayard Winthrop of New York. The ushers were Thomas Nelson Perkins, Louis Adams Frothingham, Rufus K. Thomas and George B. Blake of Boston, G. Richmond Fearing and C. C. Baldwin of New York.

The bride's gown was of white satin, made perfectly plain. The veil was of fine lace and was caught in a simple manner with orange blossoms. The bridesmaids were attired in white silk and wore green sashes.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. M. Grosvenor, pastor of the church, and the Rev. Dr. John Hall of New York. The Episcopal service was followed, and the bride given away by her father.

One notable feature was the music by Professor Harry W. Warner of St. Bartholomew's church of New York and Professor Jasper Tromboe of Trinity church.

After the ceremony the bridal party drove at once to Elm court, the Sloane's beautiful summer home. Mr. and Mrs. Burden received in the spacious salon, which, like the other rooms of the house, was simply decorated in green and white.

Among those present at the church and also at the house were: Chauncey M. Depew, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt, William K. Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Vanderbilt, Mrs. W. H. Vanderbilt, Mr. George W. Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. H. McK. Twombly, Dr. and Mrs. Seward Webb, Miss Edith Shepard, Miss Alice Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Graham, Miss Gray, Mrs. W. H. Gray, Miss Kittie Gandy, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Howard, Mrs. W. H. Hope, Miss Hoppin, Miss Ashmore, Miss Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. William Baylis, General and Mrs. Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burden, Miss Barker, Mr. and Mrs. William Burden, Miss Evelyn Burden, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bronson, Miss Edith Bronson, Miss Adele Chanler, Mr. and Mrs. William Carey.

WALLINGFORD.
News received from Bridgeport hospital at 8 o'clock last evening by telephone reports that the condition of George A. Lane continues favorable, and that he passed a quiet day; that he is rallying from his injuries and that everything is as hopeful as could be expected, although, of course, his condition is extremely critical. It is hoped that his iron constitution will pull him through.

Cashier W. H. Newton of the First National bank has sent out notices to the depositors as follows:

Except on Saturdays the office hours of this bank are from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. On all Saturdays the bank will close at 12 noon, and all notes made on or after April 2, falling due on that day, will be payable on the following Monday.

Days of grace are abolished on all notes and bills made after July 1, 1895.

Rev. J. A. Linsley of Woodbury has received a call to Torrington and will accept. Mrs. Linsley was formerly Miss Emma Trout.

About a dozen of the Ramblers went on a moonlight run to Hanover last evening. Simpson, Hall, Miller & Co.'s works are closed until Monday.

A GRATEFUL PHYSICIAN.

HE TELLS THE STORY OF HIS WIFE'S THRILLING EXPERIENCE IN A RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

What Came of It.

It very often happens that some slight injury, which at the moment appears but trivial, will set up disturbances of the nervous system and completely upset the Digestive Organ. In the particular case to which we have reference the injuries were in themselves almost fatal, and it must have required a strong constitution to withstand the shock. We will let Dr. Edwards tell the story in his own words, and therefore quote a letter which he recently addressed to The Providence Food Company:

"On the 14th day of October, 1893, she suffered a severe injury in a railroad accident; in fact, she was lifeless when found in the debris. This resulted in a complete derangement of her nervous system. In a very short time Nervous Dyspepsia appeared, gradually growing worse until a point was reached where her stomach could scarcely tolerate anything, cold water not excepted. Even boiled milk gave her pain, but she had to have something, and has lived on this food for over a year. Her nights have been sleepless except under the influence of drugs. She became so weak she could scarcely stand alone."

I have given her everything possible and tried numerous treatments, but all to no effect. As a last resort I decided to try your Pro-Digesta Food, Paskola, and the result was she began to improve from the very first dose. She has now taken three bottles in all, and finds that she can eat a good meal, sleep well and is gaining flesh rapidly. In fact, she says, as is well,

In conclusion, will say that I am satisfied that Paskola saved my wife's life, for which you have my profound thanks.

Patronally yours,
T. J. EDWARDS, M. D.

This is but one of over 500 letters of endorsement for The Pro-Digesta Food, which have been received from Physicians alone within the past two months. They will gladly mail their testimonial upon application.

The Hospital Aid Society.
During the months of April and May seventy-seven garments were completed for the hospitals. Mrs. Johnson and Miss Willard had charge of the work.

We gratefully acknowledge the following donations: From "Our Society," $20; Mrs. Barrett, $1; collected by Mrs. Sullivan, from Mrs. Josephine Porter $30, Mrs. E. H. Trowbridge $10, Mr. T. Ketchum $5.

There will be no more Friday morning meetings of the society until fall, due notice of which will be given.

HOUSE CLEANING TIME

Is not only trying and laborious to the good housewife, but also "a trifle unpleasant" to the "lord of the mansion," who misses many little attentions which he receives when "everything" is not "pulled up" and "put somewhere" where "one can't find it."

But it is a necessary ordeal, and soon, under the able and efficient management of "the Angel of the Household," perfect "cleanness" which is "next to godliness" ensues, and peace like a gentle dove again broods over the domestic habitation.

Since ROOT, the Famous Baker, Introduced his Celebrated

QUAKER BREAD

House-cleaning time has lost much of its "terror." Fortified with a good breakfast, of which Delicious Quaker Bread is one of the articles of consumption, good health and spirits are sure to render the work "a labor of love" and the "man of the house" also feels as pleasant that he finds himself involuntarily whistling "Home, Sweet Home."

Root's Quaker Bread was introduced to the New Haven public by Mr. Root, who makes it by the original process. It is very palatable and strengthening and recommended by the medical faculty. Thousands are using it and all speak in the highest terms of praise concerning it.
